[REDACTED] I have always lived in Warrington and been proud to be part of Warrington town. I have seen many changes over the years, some possibly not for the best but one of the biggest problems this town faces is the amount of traffic and congestion. To build more properties and bring more people into Warrington will undoubtedly overload our road network. More houses means more people, more people means more traffic, more traffic on Warrington's road system would bring the town to a standstill on a daily basis. Its bad enough as it is now. I have also enjoyed the fact that within walking distance of many parts of south Warrington there is beautiful countryside that also preserves wildlife. I don't want to live in a city thank you very much, I love Warrington TOWN, let's just improve things for the people who live here already.
