

Garden City Suburb area comments.

Traffic:

I am concerned about the effect on the existing roads into Warrington by the inevitable increase in traffic caused by the proposed concentration of additional housing.

The effects of gridlock in this area from the, increasingly frequent, traffic overflow from accidents etc on the adjacent motorways needs to be considered - the proposals just seem to load the existing roads with more traffic.

Trans Penine Trail :

The "projected" use of this Trail as a road seems inappropriate to the area.

Such a road would add significant noise and air pollution along its route through existing built-up areas including close to schools.

It would reduce, currently quiet areas of, Thelwall and Latchford to major thoroughfares, including traffic from the motorways which would inevitably use the route into Warrington.

Such a road would therefore spoil the local environment and deny us the amenity of a walkway - which currently encourages people to exercise.

(The cost of getting such a road over the Bridgewater Canal and Manchester Ship Canal must be enormous !)

Hospital overload:

So many additional houses would surely swamp the already overloaded medical services in Warrington.
