Dear Hans Mundry,

I have recently been away on holiday and when I returned I had a flyer providing information about the proposed use of the Latchford railway embankment into a major road from Thelwall to Bridge Foot in Warrington town centre. The last I heard was that the embankment was to be removed for housing.

The whole thing seems to have been hushed up if you believe the words in the flyer. Can you shed any light, give any advice and provide some clarification please? [REDACTED]

Thanks in advance

Yours sincerely,
