Dear Cllr Mundry,

I am extremely disappointed at not only your lack of response to my email but also the lack of its acknowledgement.

It is clear from this how little your constituents mean to you and as a consequence, I strongly advise you never to knock on my door, or communicate with me in any other way, when election time rolls around.

Yours

> [REDACTED] today I received a leaflet through my door which said that there is a proposal for a main road to be built along the route of the railway embankment through Latchford/Grappenhall/Thelwall.

>

> The leaflet states that this would result in compulsory purchase orders being issued on properties along the proposed development. As my house backs onto the embankments, I am naturally concerned.

>

> Could you possibly provide me with any information regarding this issue that will potentially impact upon my home?

> Many thanks in advance.
