Good afternoon,

I hereby formally object o building 1000's of houses on greenbelt land in the borough of Warrington.

Will any of these houses be carbon neutral? thought not!

Will they be of higher quality than the dross builders normally build these days? Thought not!

Will they be high density houses to limit the loss of greenbelt, instead of 4/5 bedroom executive houses?
Thought not.

Also, who pays for the infrastructure such as roads, increased congestion, schools, shops etc? That's right, me, the stupid tax payer!

[REDACTED] if you want to object to this plan, you only have until 5pm today to email them!

Regards

Anthony Ratcliffe
